

Report of: David Thompson

Oct. 14, 1926.

402

Re: Choir Members:

Mrs. Louise Deutschman Heidingsfeld,
42 Albany Street,
New Brunswick, N.J.

Mrs. Heidingsfeld, described on the list as Mrs. Louise Deutschman, married Ernest Heidingsfeld about three years ago, since which time she has not been a member of St. John's choir. She is at present teaching at the Nathan Hale School.

She was a member of the choir for about four years and was there at the time of the murder. She was well acquainted with Rev. Hall and Mrs. Mills, meeting them at choir rehearsals, church services and various other social functions. According to her statement she never observed anything to indicate in the slightest degree that there was any improper relations existing between the two parties; that Dr. Hall's manner and treatment of Mrs. Mills was no different than toward other members of the choir and congregation. further she never had heard mention of any intimacy between them prior to the murder and that while stories have been circulated since, having known Reverend Hall so well, she feels that the stories are not based on facts and are wholly untrue.

Respectfully submitted:

D.T.

18